

Sticks and Tones

Maria and Henry Flurry

Promoting literacy through interactive, hands-on musical fun, movement, and collaboration!

1

Lit Hits!

50-60 minutes

Recommended for a group of 5-30 students

Ages: Pre-Schoolers to 9 years old

Encouraging reading for meaning, early readers work together to "illustrate" a story with sound. Examples of parts of speech are identified and utilized to clarify the nuance of what a story could be expressing. These discoveries are transferred to percussion instruments through the children's decisions about musical dynamics, texture, and rhythm. There's a big finale when the story and music are performed all together! We have many text to recommend or big book from your library's collection may be requested.

2

Medieval Mischief

50-60 minutes

Ages: 5 through 11 years old

Dance and play through this musical romp that brings the music, history, and daily life of the Middle Ages to life! A visiting minstrel poses a riddle that must be solved through use of the imagination like forming a bucket brigade to put out a fire and playing music to delight the court!

3

Plant a Seed, Read!

50-60 minutes

Ages: 5 through 11 years old

Children sing songs and use movement to explore the joys and techniques of raising plants. Discover how each child can make instruments from what is grown in the garden and in the wild from gourds, seed pods, and more!

"Sticks and Tones performed at the Black Canyon Library and it was a hit! The show was engaging, informative, and entertaining!"
